

CODE OF CONDUCT AND ETHICS OF AEHR TEST SYSTEMS

(Adopted Effective September 24, 2004; Updated August 20, 2014)

It is the policy of Aehr Test Systems (together with its wholly- and majority owned subsidiaries and affiliates worldwide, the “Company”) that all directors, officers and employees of the Company shall, to the best of their knowledge and ability, adhere to, comply with and advocate the principles set out in this code of conduct and ethics (the “Code”) governing their professional and ethical conduct in the fulfillment of their responsibilities.

This Code is designed to deter wrongdoing and promote:

- Honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships;
- Full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in reports and documents that the Company files with, or submits to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and in other public communications made by the Company;
- Compliance with applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations;
- The prompt internal reporting of violations of the Code to appropriate persons of authority within the Company; and
- Accountability for adherence to the Code.

The Code embodies principles to which all directors, officers and employees are expected to adhere and advocate. Agents and contractors of the Company are also expected to read, understand and abide by this Code. Any violations of the Code may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination or removal, as applicable.

This Code is not the exclusive source of guidance and information regarding the conduct of our business. You should consult applicable policies and procedures in specific areas as they apply. The Code is intended to supplement, not replace, the other policies and procedures of the Company.

All directors, officers and employees of the Company will:

1. Act with honesty and integrity, avoiding actual or apparent conflicts between personal and private interests and the interests of the Company, including refraining from receiving improper personal benefits as a result of holding a particular position with the Company;

2. Not solicit or accept, for personal or other benefit, business or similar opportunities that could reasonably be expected to otherwise accrue to the benefit of the Company;
3. Use corporate assets entrusted to them in a responsible manner and refrain from competing directly or indirectly with the Company or using corporate information or opportunities for personal gain;
4. Where applicable, provide the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the Company's stockholders, the investing public and other relevant constituencies with financial or other reports and information that is full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable;
5. Endeavor to comply with applicable laws and regulations of federal, state, local and foreign governments and government agencies having jurisdiction over the Company and with applicable regulations of private or self-regulatory authorities having jurisdiction over the Company;
6. Act in good faith, responsibly with due care and diligence and without misrepresentation or omission of material facts and strive to maintain independent judgment in the performance and fulfillment of their duties and responsibilities;
7. Promote ethical behavior among subordinates and peers at the Company;
8. Respect the confidentiality of information acquired or obtained in the course of performance of their responsibilities, never use confidential information for personal advantage, and disclose confidential information of the Company or third parties only when such disclosure is legally required or is otherwise authorized.
9. Not fraudulently induce or influence, coerce, manipulate or otherwise mislead any auditor engaged in the performance of an audit or in the performance of any other service for the Company for the purpose of rendering the financial statements materially misleading or for any other improper purpose.
10. Comply with other policies and procedures of the Company applicable to their positions and employment, including the Company's Insider Trading Policy and, to the extent applicable, the other policies and procedures of the Company set forth in the Company's Employee Handbook.

Disclose and obtain approval by the board (or its designee) of any significant financial interest in any transactions involving the Company, or any indirect interest in any transactions involving the Company through, for example, a relative, significant other or business entity. Any dealings with a related party must be conducted in such a way that no preferential treatment is given to that business. Any waiver of this Code of Ethics may be made only by the Company's Board of Directors (the "Board"). Any waiver of the code for any director or executive officer of the Company must be disclosed, along with the reasons for the waiver, on Form 8-K within five days, or such shorter period as may be required under applicable regulation.

It is the duty of each director, officer and employee of the Company to report violations of the Code promptly to the attention of the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer or to any member of the Audit Committee of the Board (the "Audit Committee").

If you have a concern about a questionable accounting or auditing matter and wish to submit the concern confidentially or anonymously, you may do so anonymously by sending or faxing an anonymous letter reporting your concern to the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer or any member of the Audit Committee.

The Company will handle inquiries discretely and use reasonable efforts to maintain, within the limits allowed by law, the confidentiality of anyone requesting guidance or reporting questionable behavior or other matters of concern under the Code. Reprisals, threats, retribution or retaliation against any person who has in good faith reported a violation or a suspected violation of law, this Code or other Company policies, or against any person who is assisting in good faith any investigation or process with respect to such a violation, is prohibited. Any such action may constitute a violation of federal and state law as well as a violation of this Code and the Company's employment policies.

The Company will promptly investigate any suspected violations. If it is determined that evidence of a violation exists, the individual subject to investigation will be notified. The subject of an investigation will have an opportunity to respond to any allegations made against that person. A person suspected of violating the Code may be suspended with or without pay while the investigation is conducted. The Company will follow local grievance procedures in jurisdictions where such procedures apply.

The Board shall promptly determine, or designate appropriate persons (including, if so determined by the Board, the Audit Committee) promptly to determine appropriate actions to be taken in the event of violations of the Code by any director, officer or employee. In determining what actions are appropriate in a particular case, the Board (or its designee) shall take into account relevant information including the nature and severity of the violation, whether the violation was a single occurrence or a series of repeated occurrences, whether the violation appears to have been intentional or inadvertent, whether the individual in question had been advised prior to the violation as to the proper course of action, and whether or not the director, officer or employee in question had committed other violations in the past. The Company will strive to enforce the Code in a consistent manner while accounting for all relevant information.

Where the Company has suffered a loss, it may pursue its remedies against the individuals or entities responsible. Certain violations of this Code may also be subject to civil or criminal prosecution by governmental authorities and others. Where laws have been violated, the Company will report violations to the appropriate authorities.

If the Board or the Audit Committee believes that it is necessary or appropriate to amend or modify this Code to achieve its objectives or to meet requirements of any regulatory authority (including any securities exchange or market) having jurisdiction over the Company, the Board shall adopt, or the Audit Committee shall recommend to the Board for adoption appropriate changes to this Code or other Company policies.

It is the Company's intention that the Code be the Company's written code of ethics under Section 406 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 complying with the standards set forth in Securities and Exchange Commission Regulation S-K Item 406 and NASDAQ Code of Conduct Rule 5610.
